We're switching to a new credit card provider

Earlier this year we were notified by our current credit card provider MBNA/CUETS of their plans to exit the long term relationships with credit unions, as they plan to wind-down the CUETS Financial division.

Over the last few months we have been working hard with Central 1 along with many other credit unions and counterparts to find a suitable replacement. Together with many other credit unions we have narrowed our search to one provider that will offer competitive credit card products to our members.

How does this affect me?

If you are currently a GVC MasterCard holder through CUETS, effective December 31, 2017, GVC will no longer have access and the ability to assist member inquiries concerning these accounts. We have not received further details from MBNA/CUETS about this change and we will communicate further when more information is made available to us.

It is our understanding that our members will be notified directly by MBNA/CUETS in regards to the changes and any action that may be required on these accounts.

Stay tuned for more information including our new suite of credit card products which will become available in January 2018.

Notice to GLOBAL PAYMENT™ MasterCard® Holders

Further to the MBNA/CUETS decision to exit the long term relationship with credit unions and winding down the CUETS financial division, GlobalPayment™ MasterCard® will cease to operate effective December 31, 2017.

Due to the timing constraints and costs involved to develop this interface in our banking system we are unable to provide a replacement solution at this time. We will be working with the new credit card provider in hopes to provide a similar credit card product for our members in the future.

In the upcoming months we will be reaching out to each Global Payment MasterCard holder to discuss their credit card needs and options.

BE FRAUD SMART Protect yourself

Identity theft and financial scams are among the fastest growing crimes in North America.

It can happen to anyone. Criminals are becoming more sophisticated, using the latest trends and technologies to defraud Canadians. To protect yourself, you need to be aware as well as proactive.

What is identity theft?

Identity theft begins when someone obtains your personal information such as your driver's license, date of birth, health card number, SIN card number, online passwords, credit card number or your card's Personal Identification Number (PIN). With a few pieces of personal information they can begin to make financial transactions in your name. They might open a new credit card account, take out a car loan or mortgage your home. You probably won't realize what has happened until it's too late and your credit rating is affected.

BANK ONLINE WITH CONFIDENCE

At GVC Credit Union we use a variety of security measures to protect your financial information when banking online. Special encryption software scrambles your information to make sure it cannot be read or changed while being transmitted.

Please visit our website at www.gvccu.com for more information on how to be fraud smart and protect yourself.

CHANGE YOUR ONLINE BANKING PAC (Personal Access Code) REGULARLY

It is recommended that you change your online PAC from time to time. Our online banking system supports a number of different PAC combinations. You can create a more complex PAC using alpha numeric values of up to 8 characters, example: Gvc75#B4. This example includes a combination of letters, numbers and a special character. Note PAC's are also case sensitive. You may create a PAC with capital and/or lower case letters. To change your PAC, log into your online banking and click on "Profile & Preferences" then on "Change Personal Access Code".

Remember to never write down or share your PAC!

Equifax Cybersecurity Incident

On September 7, 2017, Equifax Inc. announced that criminals exploited a U.S. website application vulnerability to gain access to certain files. Based on the company's investigation, the unauthorized access occurred from mid-May through July 2017. Although it was originally thought that the incident was limited to U.S. consumers, Equifax recently discovered that some Canadian and U.K consumers were also impacted.

While their investigation is ongoing and this information may change, at this point, they believe that the incident involves potential access to the personal information of approximately 100,000 Canadian consumers, and that the information that may have been breached includes name, address, Social Insurance Number and, in limited cases, credit card numbers.

Equifax has been working with the Office of the Privacy Commissioner of Canada (OPC) and will be sending notices via mail directly to all impacted consumers outlining the steps they should take. For impacted Canadians Equifax will also be providing complimentary credit monitoring and identity theft protection for 12 months.

Although only a limited number of Canadians have been impacted, Equifax reminds Canadian consumers to be vigilant in reviewing their account statements and credit reports and to immediately report any unauthorized activity to their financial institutions.
